Hypothetical State Programs for Ensuring that All New Community Water Systems and Non-Transient Non-Community Water Systems Demonstrate Technical, Managerial, and Financial Capacity

This guidance is too large to include in this manual.

EPA distributes up to 10 free copies of each publication to each customer through the Water Resources Center (WRC) and the National Service Center for Environmental Publications (NSCEP, formerly NCEPI) until those supplies run out. Then customers can order them for a fee from the clearinghouses National Technical Information Services (NTIS) and Educational REALMS. You can send an email order to any of those sources, or call them at:

- Educational REALMS: http://www.stemworks.org/; 800-LET-ERIC (538-3742)
- NSCEP: ncepi.mail@epa.gov; 800-490-9198
- NTIS: order@ntis.fedworld.gov; 800-553-6847
- WRC: center.water-resources@epa.gov; 202-260-7786

This guidance may be available for downloading via the EPA website. Visit www.epa.gov and type the document number in the search engine to find out if the document you are looking for is available.

To order this guidance, note the following information:
