

ANNOUNCING

The

National Risk Management Research Laboratory's Listserver

In an effort to expand and improve communication to our stakeholders, the National Risk Management Research Laboratory (NRMRL) is establishing a listserver to more quickly announce publications, workshops, conferences, and other activities related to the Laboratory's research activities.

The listserver is an e-mail based mechanism that simply sends messages to email-addresses. New information is automatically transmitted to all subscribers on the listserver via e-mail on a regular basis.

To subscribe to this list:

- Send an email to: listserv@unixmail.rtp.epa.gov
- Leave the subject line blank
- In the message area, type: subscribe nrmrl "your first name" "your last name"

Place one space between each word as indicated.

Example: subscribe nrmrl John B. Smith
