ACCESS Express, a quick reference guide to major EPA information contacts, was developed as a pocket guide for convenient access to EPA information services throughout the country.

The sections on EPA Clearinghouses and Dockets are organized by primary environmental topics. The Records, Libraries, Public Information Contacts section is organized by EPA office location, and includes contacts at EPA Headquarters, Regional Offices, Laboratories, and Field Offices. Many of the information resources listed are contractor-operated.

ACCESS Express is a brief version of ACCESS EPA, a comprehensive directory to major information services and collections of EPA and other public sector organizations. ACCESS EPA includes major EPA databases, EPA scientific models, and State Environmental Libraries. For each contact point, ACCESS EPA provides descriptions of services and products and is enhanced with a detailed name, title, and subject index. Ordering information for ACCESS EPA is on the inside back cover.

ACCESS Express is available at no charge while supplies last from EPA's Public Information Center:

EPA VISITORS CENTER

On Earth Day 1992, EPA opened a new Public Information Center to welcome visitors with an engaging presentation of our mission and programs. The Center features interpretive displays, including photographic exhibits, a slide show, access to databases, and a theater area with videotapes. These features explain EPA's programs and environmental issues to children and adults from all over the world. There are also pamphlets and factsheets for further information. The Center, at EPA Headquarters, 401 M Street, SW, Washington, DC 20460, is at the Metro's Green Line Waterfront station and is open from 9:00 am to 4:30 pm on Federal workdays.

Visitors Center Appointments: (202) 260-1077

Clearinghouses act as central access points for hard-to-locate technical reports and documents. Many use hotlines and bulletin boards to provide convenient access for remote users.

ACCESS EPA REVISED 1993 EDITION

Completely updated in 645 invaluable pages, including 24 new entries and all new mail codes for Headquarters offices.

Access key, publicly available information resources on every environmental topic. Provides detailed descriptions with complete contact information. Produced by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), this pathfinder includes both EPA and other public sector organization resources.

Includes information on EPA's National Environmental Supercomputing Center (new for 1993) as well as EPA:

- Documents
- Records Programs
- Scientific Models
- Docketts
- Databases
- Clearinghouses
- Libraries

In addition, contains directions for obtaining other publicly accessible environmental information on topics such as:

- State Environmental Libraries
- Government Document Ordering Services
- Federal Depository Libraries

To enhance the usefulness of this publication, there is also a selected acronym list (expanded to include 66 new entries) and a detailed author/title/subject index.
