TO: U.S. Citizens, EPA Staff and Partners:

ACCESS EPA is your guide to EPA information resources, services and products. Its purpose is to make environmental information useful for citizens, environmental organizations and businesses, as well as EPA staff.

We strongly believe that public access to information strengthens EPA's ability to fulfill its mission. Convenient access to information helps you to fully participate in critical environmental decisionmaking and gives EPA the feedback necessary to steer the development of programs.

ACCESS EPA includes pointers to the wealth of EPA information available through many access contacts. ACCESS EPA is available as both a consolidated guide and in the following series of individual titles:

- Public Information Tools
- Major EPA Dockets
- Clearinghouses and Hotlines
- Records Management Programs
- Major EPA Environmental Databases
- EPA Library and Information Services
- State Environmental Libraries

ACCESS EPA titles, updated annually, are for sale by the U.S. Government Printing Office and the National Technical Information Service. The titles are also available for reference at Federal Depository Libraries.

We very much welcome your comments on ACCESS EPA. There is a form at the back of each title to make it easy for you to help us further improve access to environmental information.

Sincerely,

Charles L. Grizzle
Assistant Administrator

Major EPA Dockets Collection and Services Form

Introduction

Major EPA Dockets contains information on the collections and services of the Agency's docket programs. It is designed as a guide for EPA staff, other government agencies and the public who require information about EPA rulemakings.

Rulemaking, or regulation development as it is called in EPA, is defined as the agency process for formulating, amending, or repealing a rule. Rules establish the particular policies and procedures used in carrying out the statutory goals established by Congress.

As part of the rulemaking process, the Agency is responsible for providing public access to information considered in developing rules and seeking public comments on new draft rules.

A "rulemaking docket" is a collection of documents that is the basis for EPA rulemaking actions. Some statutes refer to a "rulemaking record" or a "docket," and others refer to the "record." Those same terms or "public docket" are often used to describe the collection of documents available to the public which reflect the Agency's consideration and promulgation of a rule.

Major EPA Dockets also includes an alphabetical list of dockets as Appendix A, "Quick Reference to Rulemaking Dockets" and "Duplication Fees" in Appendix B.

Major EPA Dockets was compiled by Gloris J. Butler, Docket Coordinator. It is updated annually. If you know of other Agency Dockets not included in this edition, please note the "Major EPA Dockets Collection and Services" form in the back of the document. To include a Docket in the next edition, complete the form and return to the address listed below:

PIRU provides public access to regulatory information supporting the Agency's actions administered under the Clean Air Act and the Clean Water Act. PIRU also has information under the statutes listed below.

Ruling, Statute Authority Citation: EPA regulations are authorized by specific legislation of Congress: Clean Air Act, Sec. 110, 111(d), 202, 206, 208, 324; Clean Water Act, Sec. 301, 402; Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), Sec. 3011; Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA), Sec. 1411, 1412, 1446; Noise Control Act, Sec. 6; Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act, Sec. 102, 104(d).

Content: PIRU information includes background documents (scientific and technical); comments to regulatory actions; transcripts of public hearings; correspondence/memoranda.

Service Provided: Responds to all public and government inquiries. Most services provided are for walk-in visitors. A reasonable fee is charged for materials copied.

Security: No clearance is necessary.

Maintenance Term of Docket Before Retiring to Federal Records Center (FRC): Some records are retained for one year after final ruling, then returned to the program for FRC disposition. Other records such as Mobile Sources Documents Defects Reports are retained indefinitely because earlier model cars are still in existence. Resource Conservation and Recovery Act documents are retained during the extent of a comment period.

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Request: FOIA requests are forwarded to the EPA Freedom of Information Office for processing.

The EPA Air Docket, maintained by the Office of General Counsel, contains the public record of information used in the promulgation or revision of Agency rulemaking and certain other decisions under the Clean Air Act. All files are available for public inspection and copying. A variety of indices facilitates access to the individual dockets and to each document therein.

Ruling, Statute Authority Citation: Clean Air Act, Section 307(d).

Content: The Air Docket files are composed of Federal Register notices; background documents, for example, scientific and technical reports; transcripts of public hearings; and correspondence/memoranda and public comments. Approximately 75 percent of the docket records are available for review in microfiche.

Service Provided: A public reading room is equipped with a photocopier, microfiche reader/printers, and a fiche-to-fiche duplicator.

Security: No clearance is necessary.

Maintenance Term of Docket Before Retiring to Federal Records Center (FRC): One year.

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Request: FOIA requests are forwarded to the EPA Freedom of Information Office for processing.

The Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) Docket consists of the Federal Register Docket, the Special Review and Re-registration Standard Docket, and Special Dockets.

Ruling, Statute Authority Citation: The Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended in 1988. The Special Review Dockets and Re-registration Standard Dockets are required under regulations CFR 40 154.15 and CFR 40 155.32 respectively.

Content: The Federal Register Docket houses background documents and public comments on proposed actions announced by Office of Pesticide Programs (OPP) in the Federal Register. The Special Review and Re-registration Standard Docket includes all Position Documents, Re-registration Standards, Science Chapters, public comments, references, letters, other pesticide documents received by OPP under Special Review, and minutes of meetings between EPA and outside agencies concerning pesticides under Special Review and those evaluated in the Re-registration process. Special dockets are created when an OPP Program

Office wants to place a set of documents on public display. The docket records are available in hard copy; some are available on microfiche.

Service Provided: Visitors should call the Docket from the Guard Desk on the first floor of Crystal Mall, Building #2, 1921 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, VA, near the Crystal City Metro stop. Records also may be requested by writing to the mailing address. Users may request to be placed on the mailing list to receive at no charge a "Monthly Index of Additions to the Registration Standard and Special Review Dockets" by calling or writing the Pesticides Docket.

Security: Most records are available for public review. Some records containing Confidential Business Information (CBI) may not be readily available.

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Request: FOIA requests are forwarded to the EPA Freedom of Information Office for processing.
