

What's On the Home Page?

Maps, Charts & Data

SITEINFO is a simple to use GIS application that can be used to create informative reports and map displays of EPA data for any given location in the region. Data which can be displayed includes: CERCLA, RCRA, TRI and NPDES Sites, Parks/Recreation Areas, Wetlands, Fisheries Resources, Water Supplies, Population Demographics, Roads, and Railroads.

Check out our map and data libraries.

Other Stuff

Topics covered elsewhere in the Home Page include: Public Notices, Press Releases, Regulations, American Indian Issues, Pollution Prevention, Recycling, Employment Opportunities in Region 10, and more....

How to Contact Us

How To Contact Us

You can reach our staff via the Internet.

lastname.firstname@epamail.epa.gov is the format for the E-mail address of our employees. You can also determine names and telephone numbers of our employees using the on-line telephone directory.

Call us toll free from the states of Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington:

1-800-424-4EPA

Seattle and Outside of Region 10:
(206)553-1200

Our Address:

Our virtual address is:
<http://www.epa.gov/r10earth>

Our real address is:
U.S. EPA Region 10
Public Information Center
1200 6th Avenue
Seattle WA 98101

Federal Recycling Program

Printed on Recycled Paper

Online FOR THE Environment

Announcing the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's World Wide Web site for:

Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington

www.epa.gov/r10earth

www.epa.gov/r10earth

Hot Links

The US EPA Region 10 Home Page features links to important and exciting items of environmental concern. Whether you are researching environmental laws, Superfund sites or are merely interested in what's happening in your neighborhood, our Home Page can help you.

Links Include:

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (National Home Page)
Alaska State Department of Environmental Conservation
Idaho's Home on the Web
Oregon State Department of Environmental Quality
Washington State Department of Ecology
Environmental News Network
City of Seattle Public Access Network
Environmental Page
The EnviroLink Network
Enviro-Info
Compilations of Other Environmental Links

Search

A Simple Keyword Search

Need reference material? If it is on our site, it is easy to find using our keyword search engine. It will produce links to any of our pages which contain the keywords for which you are searching. Searches can be made for words, phrases, and combinations of words and/or phrases. Examples are given in the search engine instructions.

Table of Contents

Tired of not knowing where to click first to get where you want to go? The table of contents shows the layout of the Home Page links. Every link is not shown, but enough are to allow you to get to the appropriate area.

What's New

Additions and updates to pages on the site are shown in a "What's New" page.

If you are a regular user, what better way is there to identify information you haven't seen?

News

News

Many of the different program offices at Region 10 publish newsletters providing updates on the activities of that office. A good example of such a newsletter is Watertalk, found on the Office of Water page.

Events

In addition, there are several calendars which list environmental events and activities which may be of interest to the public.

Environmental Education

Interested in environmental education? Look for descriptions of projects, curricula, materials and activities for all age levels.

www.epa.gov/r10earth