SECTION THREE	STATE INDUSTRIAL AND CONSTRUCTION AND DEMOLITION (C&D) WASTE LANDFILL LISTS 3-1

SECTION ONE INTRODUCTION

In 1984, Congress passed the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). Section 4010 of RCRA mandates that the Agency determine the adequacy of existing waste disposal facilities and practices. In response to this mandate, the Agency has conducted a series of studies to identify and collect data on facilities used to manage Subtitle D wastes. One study, "Screening Survey of Industrial Subtitle D Establishments," estimated the number of on-site waste management units used within 17 industries to manage non-hazardous industrial wastes. The study was conducted in the mid-1980s.

The number of industrial and construction and demolition (C&D) landfills active in the mid-1990s is unclear, given the passage of time. This document provides the Agency with a revised estimate of the number of these Subtitle D facilities. Table 1 is a summary of the findings; there are an estimated 1,370 industrial and 1,889 C&D waste landfills in 1994. The list is compiled from individual records collected by the states and territories; the quality of the information varies accordingly. Individual states may classify C&D landfills or industrial waste landfills differently depending on state definitions. These different definitions may affect the count of actual C&D or industrial waste landfills. We wish to thank the state and territorial officials who contributed their time and energy to provide these lists. No attempt has been made to verify the accuracy of the individual lists. Individual States may classify construction/demolition landfills or industrial waste landfills differently depending on State definitions. These different definitions may affect the count of actual C/D or industrial waste landfills.

Section Two provides summaries of the types of information contained in each state's list. The state summaries include a count of facilities; the date of the data; a list of the additional data available from the state list; and the name, address, and telephone number of the contact who provided the information. A comment section identifies any processing that was done to obtain the list of active industrial and C&D waste landfills. For all states, facilities whose permit had expired or would expire by December 31, 1994 were not included in the count or on the lists shown in Section Three.

Section Three contains the list of active industrial and C&D landfills. The lists are sorted by county, city, and name. The landfill city and zip code were taken first from the facility address. If the facility address was not available, the city and zip code were taken from the operator address, except when the operator was located in a different state. In the latter case, the city and zip code were left blank. This pattern sometimes results in a city being listed in more than one county. In such cases, the county is the correct location of the landfill.

Three states (Delaware, Illinois, and Rhode Island) kept records of whether the landfills were off-site or on-site. In these cases, the off-site landfills are identified by asterisks after their name. This information is also noted on the state summary sheet.

SECTION TWO
STATE SUMMARY SHEETS

ALABAMA

Number of Industrial Landfills: 139	Date of Data:	9/93
Number of C&D Landfills: 32		7/94

The following additional information is available from the State:

STATE CONTACT: Russell Kelly
Alabama Department of Environmental Management
1751 Cong. W.L. Dickinson Drive
Montgomery, AL 36130
(205) 271-7771

COMMENTS: Mr. Kelly supplied two lists - one for permitted landfills and one for sanitary landfills. Permitted landfills accept no garbage or putrescible wastes and do not require a daily cover. The list does not distinguish between industrial and C&D landfills. All sites on this list are classified in Section 3 as industrial landfills, although the names indicate that some may be C&D landfills. Sanitary landfills accept solid wastes and require a daily cover. Industrial and C&D landfills are specifically identified as such. Mr. Kelly supplied July 1993 and July 1994 versions of the sanitary list. The first contained permittee information, from which the city and zip code are taken, while the second contained the landfill category (industrial or C&D). The city and zip code are from the permittee address.

ALASKA

COMMENTS: Alaska supplied a statewide landfill list. Mining, military, and oil-drilling related landfills are excluded from this list. Industrial waste and C&D waste classifications were determined by the facility name. In addition, any landfills operated by public or municipal authorities were considered municipal solid waste landfills and were excluded.

COMMENTS: C&D waste landfills are from two listings. In the "Operating SW Facility Listing" C&D landfills were indicated with an "L" (C&D and brush) in the permit number. The majority of the C&D landfills were obtained from an "Inert Landfill" listing (887 landfills). In Georgia, inert landfills include individual house sites where inert debris is buried. Therefore, the actual number of C&D landfills does not include these 887 individual house sites where inert debris is buried. Industrial waste landfills were obtained from a separate listing of solely industrial landfills. City and zip code are provided from the mailing address when available for both C&D and industrial waste landfills.
