

How to Register a Company with EPA (Request a Manufacturer Code)

One of the requirements to use EPA's Verify computer system is for each company (a manufacturer or importer) to acquire an EPA manufacturer code and register that code in Verify. This document shows how to obtain and register a manufacturer code.

I Request a Manufacturer Code through Verify

EPA assigns a 3-character, alpha-numeric manufacturer code to each company that wants to certify their vehicles or engines with EPA. Only one manufacturer code is assigned to each company, even if that company plans to certify products from multiple industries.

If your company does not yet have an EPA-assigned manufacturer code: In order for EPA to assign a manufacturer code one person from your company must complete Verify's manufacturer registration process so that your manufacturer code can be registered with Verify.

If your company already has an EPA-assigned manufacturer code: Your company must still complete Verify's manufacturer registration process so that your existing 3-character manufacturer code can be registered with Verify.

Note: Both companies acquiring a new manufacturer code AND companies who already have a manufacturer code but need to register the code in Verify must complete all steps in section A below.

A. Create a Verify (CDX) User Account

Verify uses EPA's Central Data Exchange (CDX) as the interface for companies to submit vehicle and engine compliance information to EPA. The first step of the Verify manufacturer registration process is to have one person from your company create a Verify (CDX) user account.

Note: This user account will only be used for the manufacturer registration process - it will not be used to submit actual compliance information. Separate user accounts must be established for submitting vehicle and engine compliance information.

For instructions on creating Verify (CDX) user accounts that will be used to submit compliance information for a specific manufacturer, please go to www.epa.gov/otaq/verify/setup.htm.

1. Go to https://cdx.epa.gov/epa_home.asp. Click on the link in the first bullet, "If you are new to CDX and wish to register, please click here."

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the EPA's Central Data Exchange (CDX) Registration Warning Notice page. The browser's address bar shows the URL https://cdx.epa.gov/epa_home.asp. 8. You should now have successfully created a CDX user account. Click the “Finished” button to go to your MyCDX homepage

Note: You do not need to click on the “enter additional VERIFY MFR REG Program IDs” link

Note: Do not proceed to section B of this document until you have successfully created your Verify (CDX) user account.

B. To Request a Manufacturer Code for Your Company OR To Enter the Manufacturer Code your Company Has in Verify

After one person from your company has successfully created a Verify (CDX) user account (see section A), the next step in the Verify company registration process is to request a manufacturer code for your company or enter the code you already have. All companies must complete this step, even those that have already been assigned a manufacturer code.

Note: Do not continue in this section until you have created a Verify (CDX) user account (see section A).

Note: Even if EPA has already assigned a manufacturer code to your company, you will not be able to submit compliance information to Verify until you have completed this section of this document. Pay particular attention to Step 2.

1. Login to the temporary CDX account created in section A. From your MyCDX home page, click on the “VERIFY MFR REG: Request Manufacturer Code for OTAQ Compliance” link which is listed under the Available Account Profiles for the CDX user account that was created in section A.I. of this document. If this link is not displayed on your MyCDX home page, contact the CDX help desk at (888) 890-1995.

The screenshot displays the MyCDX web application interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the EPA logo and the text "U.S. Environmental Protection Agency". Below this, the user is logged in as "S5VERIFY". The main content area is titled "Central Data Exchange - MyCDX" and includes a welcome message for Mr. S Somoza, along with login and registration dates. A notification indicates a new message in the inbox. Below this, there are four buttons: "Change System Password", "Edit Personal Information", "Edit Current Account Profiles", and "Add New Employer Profile". The "Available Account Profiles" section lists a single profile with the link "VERIFY MFR REG: Request Manufacturer Code for OTAQ Compliance", which is highlighted by a red arrow. At the bottom of the page, there is a security notice and contact information for the help desk.

- On the Manufacturer Information screen, fill in all applicable fields about your company.

If your company already has an EPA manufacturer code, enter it in the comment field at the bottom of the screen.

Click the “Review & Submit” button when you have completed the form.

Note: Enter as many compliance contacts for your company as applicable. Contacts can be included here that will not have a Verify (CDX) user account. Entering a contact here is not the same as creating a Verify (CDX) user account for that person.

- The confirmation page will summarize your request that was submitted to EPA for processing. You can print this page for your records.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the EPA MyCDX portal. The page title is "Review" and the breadcrumb trail is "MyCDX > Request for EPA Manufacturer Code > Review > Success". The user is logged in as "S5VERIFY" with manufacturer "Me - N/A". The main content area contains a message from EPA stating that the request has been submitted and will be processed within two business days. A "Details" table is displayed with the following information:

Details
Date: 11/20/2006
Industry: Light-Duty Vehicle & Truck
Compliance Module: Manufacturer Information

Below the table, there are links for "Verify Home (CDX)" and "Print". At the bottom of the page, there is a security notice: "You are in an encrypted secure session." and contact information for the Help Desk: (888) 890-1995. Links for "EPA Home", "Privacy and Security Notice", and "Contact Us" are also present. The URL at the bottom is "http://www.epa.gov/epahome/usenotice.htm".

- You will receive a notification in your MyCDX Inbox stating that your submission was sent to EPA for processing.

Note: Although EPA tries to respond to all manufacturer code requests in less than two business days, it may occasionally take longer if EPA receives requests from numerous companies in a short period. We appreciate your patience.

While waiting for EPA's response, do not submit a duplicate manufacturer code request to Verify. This will only delay your registration process. If after two business days you have not received a status notification in your MyCDX Inbox, you may send an e-mail to Verify@epa.gov asking for a status of your submission. Please provide the date, time, and transaction identifier from your submission confirmation message.

6. Once EPA has processed your request, you will receive a notification in your MyCDX Inbox and at your business e-mail address indicating whether your manufacturer code request was approved or rejected. If it was approved, this notification will include the 3-character manufacturer code that EPA assigned to your company.

Note: Once EPA has assigned a 3-character manufacturer code to your company, you have completed the manufacturer registration process. You may now begin the Verify (CDX) user registration process for anyone who will be submitting compliance information to Verify for your company.
